Everything was going along splendidly until one day, the mice decided to have a party and invite some friends. They told their friends they could invite whoever they wanted. The mice invited the rabbits.

- Open tones (small bouncy noises)

The rabbits invited the squirrels

- Fingers scampering across the drum

The squirrels invited the woodpeckers

- Knuckles rapping on the wooden shell of the drum

The woodpeckers invited the snakes

- Fingernails sliding across the drum

The snakes invited the horses

- Heel/finger strokes

The horses invited the elephants

- Thumping bass tones with fist

All was going along splendidly until the elephants....saw the MICE!
